By NATHANIEL AMES.

Ador'd artificer! What Skill divine!

That Wonders in the wide Creation shine!

*Fair look the Stars, and fair the morning Ray,
When first the Fields their painted Scenes display
Order and Majesty adorn the whole,
Beauty and Life, and thou th' inspiring Soul:
Whatever Grace or Harmony's express'd,
On all thy Works, the God is there confess'd:
But oh! from all thy Works how small a Part
To human Minds is known of what thou art!
Fancy gives o'er its Flight, in Search of Thee,
Our Thoughts are lost in thy Immensty.*

Re-printed and Sold by Thomas & Samuel Green, at the Old State-House.

CUSTOM and Fashion, which the World blindly follows, right or wrong, must be follow'd by Almanack-makers. as well as others; otherwise perhaps, I should have saved myself the Trouble of writing, and you of reading a formal Preface, and filled this Page with a table of Interest, † or something that might assist you in your Business. But to prevent your going to Sleep over it, I shall season it with some humorous Extracts from Doct. Smoller's Travels, concerning the Absurdity of the Customs and Fashions of different Nations.——“At Paris, says he, 'tis the Fashion to eat mortified Flesh:—A Native of Legiboli, will not taste his Fish, till it is quite putrified: The civilized Inhabitants of Kam-schatka get drunk with the Urine of their Guests whom they have already intoxicated:—The NovaZemblans and Laplanders feast and make merry on Lamp Oil:—The Greenlanders eat in the same Dish with their Dogs:—The Caffres at the Cape of Good-Hope, p—ss upon those whom they delight to honor, and feast upon Sheep's Guts, as the greatest Dainty that can be presented:—A true-bred Frenchman dips his Fingers, imbrowned with Snuff, into his Plate filled with Ragout, and between every three Mouthfuls, takes a fresh Pinch, with the most graceful Gesticulations, then he displays his Handkerchief, which may be termed the Flag of Abomination, and in the Use of both scatters his Favors on all that have the Happiness to sit near him;——it must be owned however, that a Frenchman will not drink out of a Tankard, in which perhaps a dozen Mouths have flabbered, as is the Custom among the English, but each has his own Goblet, which stands before him on the Table. If there is so little Cleanliness among these People, much less shall we find Delicacy, which is the Cleanliness of the Mind; can Custom exempt from the Imputation of gross Indecency; a French Lady who shifts herself in Presence of a Male Visitant, and suffers herself to be handed to——by her Admirer, or him who stands at the Door all the while she's within, and entertains her with the smart small Talk of the Town, which he has at his Finger's Ends”——Now, Reader, let us look into our own Country, and see if we ourselves have no such absurd, unclean, indelicate Customs. I think I could mention several ;——but seeing they do little other Damage, than offend the Senses of those who come within the Sphere of their Action, I shall wave them, and only just touch upon the bewitching Power of the Fashion of the Times.

† We have inserted the Table of Interest (from another Almanack) which we think will be more beneficial to the Public than the Ephemeris.

How absurd is it for Parents, who by their own Care and Industry have heaped up an Estate to educate their Children, as if they thought they never could spend it, by teaching or suffering them to place their chief Ambition in Dress, and Scenes of Dissipation, whereby they contract an hearty Aversion for Business, and the thriving Sound of the Spinning Wheel and Loom, and spread the Infection of despising honest Industry, and modest Merit, in home-made Dress, as if in this consisted Gentility, which has little to do with externals ; for a Gentleman is the same in all Circumstances, in Silk and Sackloth ; and we often see an ill-bred Villain dressed very fashionably.——How much more honor'd and esteemed by every true Patriot and Friend to his Country, is the Man, who, cloath'd in the Manufacture of his own House, comes to the City on his lofty Steed, loaded with the Fat of the Land, in Sacks as white as Snow, true Emblem of Neatness and Delicacy ! he looks independent, and need not fear the Frowns of the prosperous Villain.——I say, how esteem'd, and much more useful to Society is such a One, than the empty, idle Eop, who laughs at his laudable Curiosity.——But methinks I hear one say, there is still a great Absurdity unnotic'd, which is, that an Almanack-maker should set up for a Reformer ;——I submit to the Censure, and return to my Province, by saying, there are but four Days in the Year on which a true Clock or Watch will be right with the Sun, but are sometimes a Quarter of an Hour too fast or slow, if they go even.——From the 24th December to 15th April, the Clock will be too fast ; from 15th April, to the 16th June, Clock will be too slow ; from 16th June to 31st August, Clock will be too fast ; and from thence to the 24th December, Clock will be too slow : And you may tell whether your Clock or Watch goes exact, by observing through a small Hole in a Window Shutter, what Time any Star disappears behind a Steeple or Chimney ; and if, on the next Night, the same Star disappears 3 Minutes 56 Seconds sooner by the Clock or Watch, it is exact.

W HETHER amid the gloom of night I stray,
Or my glad eyes enjoy revolving day,
Still Nature's various face informs my sense,
Of an all-wise, all-powerful Providence:
Sole Lord of nature's universal frame,
Thro' endless years unchangeably the same.

II. February hath 29 Days. 1768.

WHEN the gay Sun first breaks the shades of night,
And strikes the distant eastern hills with light,
Colour returns, the plains their liv'ry wear,
And a bright verdure cloaths the smiling year;
The blooming flowers with op'ning beauties glow,
And grazing flocks their milky fleeces show,
The barren cliffs with chalky fronts arise,
And a pure azure arches o'er the skies.

BUT when the gloomy reign of night returns.
 Stript of her fading pride all nature mourns.

 Wrapt in night's robe the whole creation lies.

The wakeful Flocks from their warm Folds arise,
Refresh'd the Peasant seeks his early toil,
And bids the Plow correct the Fallow soil.

XII. December hath 31 Days. 1768.

WHO then would wish to stretch this scanty span,
To suffer life beyond the date of man?
The virtuous soul pursues a nobler aim,
And life regards but as a fleeting dream;
She longs to wake, and wishes to get free,
To launch from earth into eternity.

Save your MONEY, and you save your COUNTRY!

At a legal and full Meeting of the Freeholders of the Town of Boston, on the 28th of October, 1767, the following Votes were passed unanimously.

WHEREAS the excessive Use of foreign Superfluities is the chief Cause of the present distressed state of this Town, as it is thereby drained of its Money; which Misfortune is likely to be increased by Means of the late additional Burthens & Impositions on the Trade of the Province, which threaten the Country with Poverty & Ruin:

Therefore Voted, That this Town will take all prudent and legal measures to encourage the produce and manufactures of this province, and to lessen the use of superfluities, and particularly the following enumerated articles imported from abroad, viz. loaf sugar, cordage, anchors, coaches, chaises and carriages of all sorts, horse furniture, men and womens hats, mens and womens apparel ready made, household furniture, gloves, mens and womens shoes, sole leather, sheathing and deck nails, gold and silver and thread lace of all sorts, gold and silver buttons, wrought plate of all sorts, diamond, stone and paste ware, snuff, mustard, clocks and watches, silversmiths and jewelers ware, broad-cloths that cost above 10s. per yard, muffs, furs and tippets, and all sorts of millenary ware, starch, womens and childrens stays, fire engines, China ware, silk and cotton velvets, gauze, pewterers hollow ware, linseed oyl, glue, lawns, cambricks, silks of all kinds for garments, malt liquors and cheese.—And that a subscription for this end be and hereby is recommended to the several inhabitants and householders of the town.

And whereas it is the opinion of this town, that divers new manufactures may be set up in America, to its great advantage, and some others carried to a greater extent, particularly those of glass & paper:

Therefore, Voted, That this town will by all prudent ways and means, encourage the use and consumption of glass and paper, made in any of the British American colonies; and more especially in this province. The form of the subscription voted unanimously by the town, is as follows:

“Whereas this province labours under a heavy debt, incurred in the course of the late war; and the inhabitants by this means must be for time subject to very burdensome taxes:—And as our trade has for some years been on the decline, and is now particularly under great embarrassments, and burthened with heavy impositions, our medium very scarce, and the balance of trade greatly against this country;”

WE therefore the subscribers, being sensible that it is absolutely necessary, in order to extricate us out of these embarrassed and distressed circumstances, to promote industry, economy and manufactures among ourselves, and by this means prevent the unnecessary importation of European commodities, the excessive use of which threatens the country with poverty and ruin.— Do promise and engage, to and with each other, that we will encourage the use and consumption of all articles manufactured in any of the British American Colonies, and more especially in this province; and that we will not, from and after the 31st of December next ensuing, purchase any of the following articles, imported from abroad, viz. loaf sugar, and all the other articles enumerated above.—

And we further agree strictly to adhere to the late regulation respecting funerals, || and will not use any gloves but what are manufactured here, nor procure any new garments upon such an occasion but what shall be absolutely necessary.

FRIENDS and country-men ! Our fathers came into this wilderness, encouraged by the word of a king that they should enjoy their civil and religious liberties ! They lived upon boil'd corn and clams, and labour'd hard to clear and cultivate the country they purchased of the natives, and defended the same at the expence of their own blood and treasure : We have often aided the crown with men and money ; and by the conquest of Cape-Briton, gave peace to Europe : Our taxes, till very lately, have been granted by our own representatives, for the support of government ; and we have given Old England millions of money in the way of trade : Our growing extravagancies have run us amazingly into debt ; & the monies that should go in payment, are now to be taken from us, without our consent, to support, independent of the people, and in greater affluence, the officers of the crown ; as also to maintain and keep up a large body of regular troops in America. Duties, unknown to our fathers, to be paid here upon sugar, molasses, wine, rum, tea, coffee, cocoa, paper of all kind, painters colours, window and other glass, &c. will carry off all our silver and gold, without other taxes, which are talk'd of upon salt and land, to the ruin of trade, and in the end of the whole province, unless prevented by the virtue of the people. Boston, has set a noble example for the encouragement of frugality and our own manufactures, by the agreement unanimously come into ; and may it be followed by all the other towns : Nay, let them go further, by agreeing not to sip that poisonous herb, called Bohea tea, as also not to purchase any sort of woollen goods made abroad, for 12 or 18 months to come, but to wear their old patch'd cloaths till our own manufacture can be bought, as many in New-York, Connecticut and Philadelphia, are now doing.—If this saving is

|| The practice of the town relative to funerals, by which a saving has been made of 100,000 is to give gloves only to bearers and ministers ; to make use of no other mourning for the nearest relations. than a weed in the hat for men, and a black bonnet, gloves, ribbons and handkerchief for women.

not made, interest mult rise, mortgages cannot be cleared, lands will fall, or be possess'd by foreigners; families impoverish'd, and our goals filled with unhappy objects.—If these wise measures should be come into, a whole province will be saved from slavery, and this dreadful ruin, and we shall soon become a FREE, RICH and HAPPY PEOPLE! — That the things which belong to our political peace, may not be hid from the eyes of Americans, as it seems to be from the eyes of Britons, is the hearty wish of——

A NEW-ENGLAND MAN.
